Re: MB Docket No. 04-233

Dear Ms. Dortch:

The Council on Child Abuse of Southern Ohio, Inc. works to prevent child abuse in our community. The Council has the longest running and most extensive Shaken Baby Syndrome Prevention Education program in the state of Ohio. So far in the 2007/2008 school year, our "Personal Safety Program," has served 25,000, K-12 students, in 1,115 classrooms. Prevention programming was delivered to these students on two important topics; child sexual assault and (bullying) peer abuse.

As a non-profit organization, we rely on, and are extremely appreciative for the opportunities to present our important prevention messages via Bonneville International-Cincinnati (WKRQ, WUBE, WYGY, WSWD).

Over the years, the Council on Child Abuse of Southern Ohio, Inc, has been invited to appear on the station's Public Affairs Show, Sunday Morning Magazine to discuss issues important to our community.

In conclusion, Bonneville International-Cincinnati (WKRQ, WUBE, WYGY, WSWD) has been effective in serving my organization's needs as well as those of the community at-large. We see no need for additional rules or reporting requirements that insert federal oversight of the process of broadcasters serving the community.

Respectfully submitted,

Karen McCann, M.A., L.S.W.
Senior Program Director
